The biggest names in automotive lifts are behind our safety label.

To ALI's member companies, an automotive lift isn't just a tool in the garage trade - it's a vital piece of safety equipment. And if that equipment fails, no one wins...Not your customer (whose vehicle is damaged), not the mechanic (whose safety it jeopardized), not the insurance company (who provides your shop's coverage), and most definitely not you (the shop owner)! That's precisely why the most renowned and reputable automotive lift companies earn the ALI Certification Label as evidence of their compliance with the current National Standards. And it's why everyone in your organization - from top managers to technicians, from purchasing agents to safety mangers - should insist that every lift on your shop floor has a genuine ALI-Certified Label and is operated and inspected using the safety materials available from ALI. Isn't it time you put the ALI label behind you and your organization?
